ANC to Serve as National Mentor in Job Ready, Willing, and Able Initiative

The American Association of Community Colleges (AACC) announced a $4.19 million three-year grant from Walmart Foundation to support the Job Ready, Willing, and Able (JRWA) Initiative, including $2.67 million directly supporting 17 community colleges across the country—including Arkansas Northeastern College. The JRWA Initiative will provide middle-skill training, industry recognized credentials, and access to employment across varying industry sectors in each of the 17 communities. Students who have access to high-quality education and training programs, relevant and quality job opportunities, and public benefits and supports are more apt to persist and succeed.

Arkansas Northeastern College will use its portion of the grant funding of $180,000 ($60,000 for each of three successive years) to fund equipment purchases, supplies, and other operational expenses associated with a new Certificate of Proficiency in Construction. This new CP program will serve the local construction industry that is expected to have a labor force demand of over 2,000 new construction jobs in Mississippi County over the next several years.

The 17 participating colleges were selected through a highly competitive process. Four colleges will be mentor colleges, with support from AACC, the National Association of Workforce Boards, AACC Affiliate Councils and industry associations. Mentors were selected from AACC’s 2008–2010 Workforce Economic Opportunity Initiative funded by Walmart Foundation and will provide additional guidance to 13 mentee colleges. The four selected mentor colleges are Arkansas Northeastern College (Ark.); Northeast Community College (Neb.); Umpqua Community College (Ore.); and Northern Virginia Community College (Va.).

Mentee colleges selected for the JRWA initiative are Grossmont College (Calif.); Community College of Aurora (Colo.); St. Johns River State College (Fla.); Kirkwood Community College (Iowa); Ivy Tech Community College (Ind.); Hazard Community and Technical College (Ky.); Jamestown Community College (N.Y.); Cuyahoga Community College (Ohio); Montgomery County Community College (Penn.); Northeast State Community College (Tenn.); Tarrant County College District (Texas); Snow College (Utah); and West Virginia University at Parkersburg (W.Va.).

ANC President Dr. James Shenwell and Dean for Economic Development Gene Bennett traveled to Washington D.C. in May where they joined representatives from the other 16 participating colleges to discuss and plan initiatives with the AACC Project Team. As part of the collaborative effort, other leading colleges from around the nation will benchmark their efforts with those of ANC and vice versa. As a mentor college, ANC anticipates hosting other colleges’ representatives for facilities tours and information sharing sessions.

“The list of the seventeen colleges selected for this grant include some of the most prominent, well-respected community colleges in the nation. For ANC to be in that company is indeed an honor. Furthermore, to be selected as one of the four mentor colleges is a validation of not only our many years of innovative workforce training initiatives but also reflective of the world-class companies with whom we have had the opportunity to learn from and work,” said ANC President Dr. James Shenwell.

“We are proud to continue our work with Walmart Foundation at a time when the nation is focused on middle-skill careers and opportunities. This initiative is a model for how community colleges can connect students with specific, sustainable jobs in their communities and contribute to long-term economic growth,” said Dr. Walter Bumplus, AACC president and CEO.
Two New Scholarships Approved - INET 40 and Early College Scholarship

In a special board meeting of the Arkansas Northeastern College Board of Trustees, two new institutional scholarships were approved.

An institutional scholarship was approved as a temporarily-available scholarship to be offered the Fall 2014 semester. The INET 40 Scholarship decreases internet courses to a flat $40 dollars per credit hour for students interested in pursuing an online degree at ANC, and have either never attended ANC or who have not attended within the previous two years. The INET 40 Scholarship does not have a residency requirement and officials hope to reach individuals living in Mississippi County as well within ANC’s service region, including Craighead and Greene Counties and the Bootheel of Missouri.

The INET 40 Scholarship offers qualifying students a net tuition/fee cost of $40 per credit hour for up to 12 credit hours per semester. It will be made available for the equivalent of up to approximately 100 full-time students and will be available to those attending either part-time or full-time. This scholarship is only available to students pursuing degrees that ANC offers entirely online.

Because developmental coursework is not currently designed or best delivered online, only students not requiring remedial coursework will be academically eligible. The scholarship will carry forward for qualifying students enrolling in the Fall 2014 semester to provide these students the opportunity to finish their degrees with the scholarship’s assistance. Students starting the Fall 2014 semester on part-time status will be able to receive elevated amounts of scholarship assistance in subsequent semesters (to attend full-time, for instance) if scholarship funds are available.

To take advantage of this scholarship opportunity, new students or students who have not attended ANC for at least two years, must enroll this coming Fall semester. This scholarship opportunity is temporarily available. There are no current plans to offer this scholarship to new students entering after the Fall 2014 semester. Students not taking advantage of the INET 40 Scholarship this Fall may not have the opportunity to receive it in the future.

The purpose of the INET 40 Scholarship is to advance online education and encourage college attendance at ANC for students who have never attended ANC, or who have not attended in recent years.

The second institutional scholarship, the Early College Scholarship, was approved. It offers students enrolled in all Mississippi County high schools, public or private and including Buffalo Island Central, net tuition/fee cost of $25 per credit hour for up to six hours of concurrent credit per semester. The Early College Scholarship applies to blended online/Advanced Placement courses, live general education offerings delivered to local high schools, and courses taken independently by county high school students while concurrently enrolled in high school.

ANC can serve up to 300 county high school students each year through this scholarship. If all 300 scholarships are not utilized by Mississippi County students during their registration process for each upcoming school year, remaining concurrent credit scholarships would be offered to students at other Arkansas high schools within the ANC service district such as Greene and Craighead Counties. ANC officials met with all seven county school superintendents on March 19th to present this proposal. The superintendents predicted high interest and demand. To allow the local schools to factor this opportunity into their planning for FY15 that is occurring presently, staff made a request of the Chairman to call a special meeting of the Board of Trustees.

The Early College Scholarship will be ongoing from year to year. The purpose of the scholarship is to increase affordable college access to area high school students and to increase college matriculation rates, particularly students matriculating to ANC.

New Construction Technology Program at ANC

Arkansas Northeastern College is pleased to announce a new Construction Technology Program designed to prepare students for entry level construction jobs. Students will learn the basics of construction safety, math, and power and hand tools. Students will develop skills in construction welding, concrete finishing, rigging, and light equipment usage. The goal of the program is to help the student acquire skills that can be used to enter the workplace and be a versatile member of a construction team. Pending program approval, the Construction Technology curriculum will include courses in Construction Craft Skills, Oxy/Acety Safety and Orientation, and SMAW Partial Joint Penetration. Great new jobs are coming to this area. Let Arkansas Northeastern College help you gain the skills and knowledge necessary to begin or advance in a construction career!
Tenaris Donates Towards Technical Education Equipment

Tenaris donated $80,000 to Arkansas Northeastern College (ANC) for the purchase of educational equipment to be used in laboratories.

“Mississippi County residents will benefit greatly from the donation”, said Dr. James Shemwell, President - Arkansas Northeastern College. “We are very appreciative of Tenaris’ support of Technical Education in Mississippi County,” he added.

Gene Bennett, Dean of Workforce and Economic Development- ANC, said the donation would cover equipment for several different areas. “We will make improvements to our electrical labs, welding equipment and will add additional MIG Welding machines,” Bennett said. “We also plan to add safety equipment for our OSHA safety labs and add a hydraulic pneumatic trainer to the existing mechanical lab.”

Bennett said the purchase would serve both technical classes and career technical Education classes located in the Crisp and Burdette Centers in Mississippi County, which serve both secondary and post-secondary students.

Hernan Brondino, Operations Director- TenarisHickman, said that the opportunity to be part of the growth at ANC is important to Tenaris. “We want to help support the education of Mississippi County residents, as well as support Arkansas Northeastern College,” Brondino said. “For the college to have upgraded and new equipment available in its labs and classrooms not only benefits Tenaris, but also other industries in the county.”

“These opportunities will help to provide Tenaris with employees in the future,” said Tracey Ritchey, Community Relations- TenarisHickman. “We will have employees with a current knowledge of today’s industrial environment.”

Tenaris has partnered with ANC on several programs within the last year. Such programs include the Steel Industry Technology Degree Internship program; donating pipe for welding classes; as well as donating $20,000 to get help start-up the W.O.R.K. Program (Workforce Orientation and Retraining Keys). Tenaris also employs W.O.R.K. graduates.

Ritchey said Tenaris is committed to the continued development and enhancement of technical education opportunities in Mississippi County.

Crosskno Receives Eugenia C. Hale Distinguished Service Award

ANC Career Coach Emily Crosskno was named the 2014 Eugenia C. Hale Distinguished Service Award recipient at this year’s commencement ceremony. Crosskno was nominated for her commitment to not only ANC, but the students she serves in our local school districts. She has served in the Blytheville Public Schools to counsel individually with every student in grades 7-12 (approximately 800 students each year) to promote college and career. Crosskno’s performance as a career coach represents a model for “best practices,” and is how successful customer service should look. Crosskno has successfully represented the ANC Career Coach Program in many public presentations to civic organizations, state work groups, and to Arkansas legislative council. She has built strong relationships with local industry leaders by facilitating Nucor’s Youth Toastmasters Leadership Program and with Arkansas State University by facilitating the College Preparatory Academy of the Delta’s academic enrichment program. In addition to this latest distinction, Crosskno has also been recognized in performance evaluations by Arkansas Career Education’s Program Director and supervisors for her work ethic.

W.O.R.K. Program Impacts Briscoe

The Workforce Orientation and Retraining Keys (W.O.R.K.) Program at Arkansas Northeastern College has made an impact on many individuals in Mississippi County. Larry Briscoe is one of the individuals whom the W.O.R.K. Program instantly impacted. Larry, a 1994 graduate of Osceola High School, was ready for a change and a career. Larry had altercations with the law at an early age, and it took him a while to get on the right track. When asked what got his attention, Larry stated, “It was seeing my peers already working and setting themselves up for retirement, and knowing I didn’t have anything prepared. The streets were not setting up a 401k plan for me.”

Before the W.O.R.K. Program initiative, Larry had a job but wanted a career. He began his search for an occupation in which he could see himself retiring. He found a job that he loved and was doing his job well, but when Larry was unsure of some specifics revealed in a background check, he was let go. Larry found himself unemployed and was referred to the ANC W.O.R.K. Program. When asked why he wanted to be a part of the program Larry stated, “I’ve tried everything that I can think of, and I need some stability within a career.”

Larry came into the W.O.R.K. Program like a blank slate, and he was eager to learn. Although he had seen and heard some of the training, Larry came in with a desire to properly understand workplace ethics, the importance of safety to most companies, and to sharpen up resume and interview skills. When asked what information in the W.O.R.K. Program really helped him, Larry cited the mock interviews. He stated that it was the hardest interview he had ever been in, but it made him aware of his flaws and what he needed to improve upon. The mock interviews are recorded, and students are asked real questions from a Human Resource Manager. The students are able to go back and review the recording to see if there is anything that they did not hear or see during the interview that needs to be fixed.

Mr. Briscoe completed the W.O.R.K. Program without missing a day and was always on time. He is now employed with American Greetings of Osceola, AR, as a Fork Lift Operator. Larry is happy in this position and is looking for ways to climb the ladder and make a career with American Greetings. Looking back at the program, Larry feels that he got his credibility back by being able to get out in the workplace and work again. For Briscoe, it doesn’t stop now that he is employed in a good job. He wants to be known as a role model to reach other people who may deal with similar struggles and know there is a better way. Larry has a heart to see men raise their standards, become more beneficial in life, and make great leaders in the community.

Briscoe also states that he accepts responsibility for his generation being like it is because he had not been leading and setting a positive example. Briscoe wants to be a part of the solution in Mississippi County. Larry Briscoe exemplifies what the W.O.R.K. Program is all about - giving people a chance to do better for themselves and their families.

For more information on how you can be a part of the W.O.R.K. Program at Arkansas Northeastern College, call Doug Echols, Jr. at 870-838-9905. If you want to encourage the individuals in this program and be a positive influence on their lives, mentors are needed as well. Contact Dr. Blanche Hunt at 870-762-1020, extension 1174.

Mbonu Role Model for Education

Queen Mbonu left Nigeria in December of 2012 to join her husband in America where he was employed with Nibco, Inc. in Blytheville, Arkansas. Her first priority, once she was settled in her new home, was to get her GED. Queen began working on this goal in July, 2013, at the ANC Adult Education Center. In December 2013, Mbonu received her GED and immediately registered for the spring semester classes at ANC. She is currently enrolled in prerequisite courses for nursing and hopes to be accepted into the ANC Nursing Program.

Balancing home, family, and studies requires focus, according to Mbonu, who lives in Blytheville with husband Donatus and two young sons, Sean and Seth (ages four and four months). She encourages other adult learners to “focus” and take advantage of the opportunities that are available to them.

Mbonu is an excellent role model for others who are considering going back to school. There will always be obstacles to overcome, but a new country, new language, young family and no high school diploma did not stop Mbonu from the pursuit of her dreams.

When asked what she likes about Arkansas Northeastern College, Mbonu stated that ANC provides a calm environment to learn, and that the instructors have a real “connection” with their students.

ANC/Yamato Kogyo Ambassadors to Japan

It was the opportunity of a lifetime!” said Sarah Ellis after her return from two weeks in the beautiful country of Japan. As one of the 2014 ANC ambassadors to Japan, Ellis of Blytheville joined Danielle Hicks of Manila, for the trip sponsored by the Yamato Kogyo Company of Japan and the ANC Foundation.

“It was such an amazing experience,” echoed fellow ambassador Danielle Hicks. “I am so grateful for the opportunity to go. Anyone who is interested in broadening their horizons should definitely apply for the ambassador program to Japan.”

The ANC Ambassadors to Japan Program was created by Mr. Hiroyuki Inoue, President of Yamato Kogyo. This year marks the 17th year that ANC students have had the opportunity to travel to Japan for two weeks, learn about that country and the Japanese culture, and bring that knowledge back to share with the people of this area. The trip is paid in full by the Yamato Kogyo Company with the airfare provided by the ANC Foundation.

During their trip, Ellis and Hicks were accommodated in Japanese hotels, the Yamato Kogyo Dormitory, and the homes of Yamato Kogyo employees—which both agreed was one of the highlights of the trip. “My host family was wonderful,” said Ellis. “Everyone was so friendly and made us feel at home.”

Travels for the ambassadors included a tour of Himeji featuring the Himeji Castle and the Kohko-en Japanese Garden. Later, they visited Miyajima and Hiroshima before spending a day at the Minami-Ohtsu Elementary School where the Japanese children performed for them. Another stop on their busy itinerary was the Golden Palace in the ancient city of Kyoto. Ellis and Hicks were also treated to a fun day at Tokyo Disneyland. Each girl was invited to spend the weekend with a different host family. Sarah stayed with the Wakasa family, and Danielle stayed with the Oki family. Both girls recalled this portion of the trip as especially rewarding. “My host family was great and made sure that my visit was a wonderful experience, stated Hicks. “It was an opportunity to experience the Japanese culture firsthand and make new friends. I will always cherish my time with the Oki family.” Sarah Ellis agreed saying, “The Wakasa family invited me into their home and made me feel welcome. They are wonderful people, and I am so happy I had a chance to get to know them.”

While in Japan, the girls had the chance to personally meet their trip benefactor, Mr. Hiroyuki Inoue, President of Yamato Kogyo Company, Ltd. and were given a tour of the steel mill in Himeji. “It was such an amazing experience. The Japanese people were so genuinely kind and friendly, and the places we got to visit were incredible,” said Danielle. “I will never forget it.” Hicks and Ellis both expressed their extreme gratitude to the Yamato Kogyo Company for its support of this program, and for the wonderful hospitality they received during their stay in Japan. Both girls said that they felt honored to have had the opportunity to represent ANC and consider their trip as a life changing experience.

ANC Dental Assisting Club Provides Free Care

The Student Dental Assisting Club is dedicated to promoting dental services to the underserved. This year the entire club participated in the Missouri State Dental Association Mission of Mercy. The Missouri Mission of Mercy (MOMOM) is a large-scale dental clinic that provides free oral healthcare to patients of all ages who cannot otherwise afford care. MOM events across America have been providing free dental services for the underserved since 2000. These clinics have helped more than 100,000 patients and provided nearly $50 million in free dental services since inception.

On May 3rd and 4th, 2014, approximately 1,616 underserved adults and children received more than $915,994 worth of free dental care at MOMOM in St. Louis. More than 1,000 volunteers, including dental health professionals and community volunteers spent Friday and Saturday providing dental care to include: 412 cleanings, 903 fillings and 2,249 extractions to individuals in the area who otherwise might not be able to obtain the care. Arkansas Northeastern College Dental Assisting students attended orientation and set-up activities on Thursday, May 2nd and then assisted dentists in providing patient care all day on Friday and Saturday, earning 36 contact hours toward their required clinical hours.

Hoop’n n’ Howl’n Classic Basketball Champions

The ANC Intramural Basketball team won the 2014 Arkansas State University Hoop’n n’ Howl’n Classic, Saturday, February 22, in Jonesboro, Arkansas.

ANC rolled through the day undefeated en route to being named Classic champions. ANC defeated the University of Arkansas Batesville 51-24, Phillips County College of the University of Arkansas 42-20, ASU Mountain Home 44-35, and ASU Mountain Home once again in the championship game 54-51.
Arkansas Northeastern College President Dr. James Shemwell and Dean for Economic Development Gene Bennett, recently traveled with county economic developer Clif Chitwood to Germany where they met with executives of the SMS Siemag company to discuss collaborative efforts for future training needs in Mississippi County.

SMS Siemag offers metallurgical plant and rolling mill technology that is used in the steel, aluminum and nonferrous metal industry worldwide. By combining the SMS Siemag knowledge and offerings with ANC’s expertise in the local workforce training market through The Solutions Group, a comprehensive plan for training new employees for the future Big River Steel Mill can be developed.

Shemwell, Bennett, and Chitwood had the opportunity to tour SMS Siemag’s TECacademy - an internationally operating training academy that supports steel producers and rolling mill owners around the world. The group visited training facilities in Düsseldorf and Hilchenbach during their short two-day visit in the country.

Along with the other ADTEC (Arkansas Delta Training and Education Consortium) colleges (Arkansas State University - Newport, East Arkansas Community College, and Mid-South Community College), ANC is collaborating with SMS Siemag’s TECacademy to develop a comprehensive training strategy for the $1.1 billion Big River Steel Mill coming to the county.

Wayne Taylor Memorial Golf Tourney a Success

Twelve four-person teams graced the course of the Big Lake Country Club in Manila for the 16th Annual Wayne Taylor Memorial Golf Tournament. This event is held each year by the ANC Foundation to raise scholarship funds. Despite torrential rain downpours prior to and after the event, players were able to complete all 18 holes.

“This year’s event will net more than $6,000 for student scholarships,” said ANC Foundation Executive Director Rachel Gifford, adding that the total for the history of the tournament would exceed $80,000.

“We greatly appreciate our major sponsors, many tee-box sponsors, players, and the Big Lake Country Club, for helping make this event such a success,” said Gifford. She also praised the Chapter AC P.E.O. for providing a wonderful lunch and Gina’s Place of Jonesboro for donating homemade chicken salad.

What comes to your mind when you think of “mad?” Perhaps your thoughts are driven towards a dictionary definition of being filled with anger or the thought of being crazy or unstable. Those thoughts and definitions may occupy the minds of most of the world outside of Arkansas Northeastern College, but at ANC we think of Mary Alice Dement - M-A-D!

Arkansas Northeastern College would like to say farewell and best wishes to Mary Alice Dement who retired from ANC on June 30, 2014, after 39 years of service. Ms. Dement was first employed by the College in 1975 as one of the original group of employees as an Instructor in English. In her years of service to the College, she held the positions of English Instructor, Division Chairman, Assistant Dean and Chair for Communications & Humanities, Dean for Arts and Sciences, Interim Vice President for Instruction, and Vice President for Instruction.

She was recognized by the ANC Board of Trustees at their regular meeting on June 18, 2014, where a resolution in her honor was read by ANC President Dr. James Shemwell and approved by the Board for inclusion in the permanent minutes for College history.

To say Mary Alice Dement is missed at Arkansas Northeastern College is an understatement of colossal proportions. When Mary Alice Dement turned off her office lights and walked out the door for the last time, ANC became...well, a little less “MAD!”

Dement’s daughter Tania Plank of Gardner, Kansas, was able to join her and approximately 100 friends from the College and community at a reception held in her honor. Dement has said she plans to play a lot of golf and travel to watch her grandson, Matt, play football for the North Dakota State University Bison. Her ANC family wishes her much happiness in her retirement and is thankful for the many years of wonderful service she gave the College.
